

Set List

Where to go. What to hear.

by Brandon Reynolds

March 30, 2005

Todd Snider at the Canal Club

Snider's new album, "East Nashville Skyline," might evoke the unpleasant images of rhinestone hats and big mullets with blond tips characteristic of the big country sound. Luckily, Snider has ridden over enough bumps in the road to have some good stories and a humorous humbleness that puts the sawdust in his voice and the rolling bounce in his songs. It's a relief to see that the Nashville skyline still yields up some open. Tickets are $15 in advance, $17.50-$20 at the door. 643-2582.