

New Snider Coming

May 24, 2004

By Todd Smith

Todd Snider's new disc, East Nashville Skyline, is due July 20 but some outlets around the country are playing cuts now. While I cannot share much about the album at this point I can tell you that calling your local stations and requesting they play the disc will help your chances of hearing this remarkable album before its launch date. Also contact your favorite internet stations such as RadioIO, RadioMargaritaville, and the fine folks at KPIG to request play for this record.

Trust me when I say this, it's worth begging stations to play.
